Making Disciples - Every Nation and Every Generation

Happy November!

I want to start by saying thank you so much for praying for me during the last half of October. I definitely felt your prayers and God has been amazing as usual. I taught the last session of our Follow Two Course a few weeks ago and even though our group was small this time around, they were so willing to learn. Here are our students celebrating their completion of the course.

We also saw this amazing bunch of people receive freedom and healing on our Freedom Day! I love the transformation of people's faces throughout this day. It's incredible how the weight of what they have been carrying for so long is lifted as they experience freedom!

Something exciting for me and for you, is that I had the privilege to lead one of these ladies in the picture to the Lord this month! I've started walking with her and helping her to learn biblical foundations – which is one of my favourite things to do!

Over the next few weeks I will be teaching our Follow Three Course as well as heading to Romania for a week of mission on the campuses in Bucharest. I'm hoping to also encourage the leaders of the newly planted church there.

November in America is where we come together to give thanks on Thanksgiving Day. I am so thankful for all of you. Your prayers, friendship, love, encouragement and support mean so much! I pray that you experience an abundance of His blessings in every area of your lives!

Lots of love,

Traci
